

Beer,

Dear beer,

Since you won that PVP tournament i felt the need to congratulate you, but when i went to your profile to add you as my best friend. You blocked me from viewing your account!! Why else would i get access denied? Are you purposely not going to log into your account anymore just to ignore my love :cry:

Am I disliked so much that both Beer and Bokai would block me access to view their profiles? What could i ever have done to you both that you would block access to your profile :cry:

I guess In the end I just loved you more than you loved me.

I feel hurt, I Feel betrayed.

Beer I thought we were growing closer and closer everyday. Our love for each other was growing with every waking second. I felt a connection, Didn't you feel it too? I laid awake at night dreaming of us skipping through Yangok valley holding hands, Picking flowers in midori oasis, Going and having a picnic in edge of taiyan and watching the little foci rush around and show us the pictures they painted of us together.

The beautiful little foci we would of had beer, it would have been magical. Why did you have to leave me so suddenly? Just run away and not say a word!! How could you do this too me!

But I guess I will wait here patiently, Wait for the return of my one true love <3 Too see the look on the young foci's faces as they see daddy is home, My love i will be *forever waiting for you too come back too me. I thought everything would be ok if you just held me in your arms beer, Through the good and bad just hold me.

Im sure everything will be ok if you just hold me in your arms once more.
I love you beer, What we had was special and I will wait forever if it is too see you again*

<3 <3

I will forever be waiting at yang form for your return, With a rose in 1 hand and lube in the other. Come home soon my love

<3 <3 Forever <3 <3
